

MEDIA ADVISORY

OFFICE OF COUNTY MAYOR GLENN JACOBS

400 Main Street, Suite 615, Knoxville, TN 37902

Mayor Jacobs and Commissioner Durrett Compete to Recognize World Diabetes Day

WHEN: 3:30 p.m. on Friday, November 13

WHERE: Women's Basketball Hall of Fame
700 S. Hall of Fame Drive

BACKGROUND: November is National Diabetes Month and a time when communities across the country team up to bring attention to diabetes. This year's focus is on taking care of youth who have diabetes.

Knox County Mayor Glenn Jacobs and District 2 County Commissioner Courtney Durrett will compete in a best-of-24 free throw competition to raise awareness of World Diabetes Day, which is globally observed November 14.

The free throw competition is to symbolize the importance healthy habits like regular physical activity play in living with diabetes and the Commissioner and Mayor will each shoot 24 times—one for each hour of World Diabetes Day.

For more information contact:

Mike Donila
306-1177 cell

Abbey Harris
215-4579 office
705-1681 cell

###